Classes and Workshops!

Add some FUNK to your daily life. We offer a large array of classes that will spice up your skillz. A typical Saturday you could spend a day at the park OR you could attend our Szechuan Sock Monkey Saturday class for only 25 bucks. Not your thing? Try caricatures, calligraphy, jewelry making, jewelry soldering or even an urban survival class! All workshops are listed on our website with times, prices and further details. Our workshops are BYOB with proper I.D.

Gift Certificates

We now offer gift certificates. Tell your friends and family or surprise the hard to buy for individual on your gift list!

Word of Mouth

Check our website in the "Getting our Name Out There" section for promotional offers, flyers and advertisements. The more word of mouth we deliver, the bigger the consignor paychecks become!

ECO-TRADE

Meet Your HoPo Staff

Jessica Phillips-Canzoneri

Jessica is the class coordinator, special events coordinator and partner in crime at the HoPo. She is the Jane of all trades. Once a chef, and currently a state worker, shop owner and waitress, she keeps on her toes! You will most likely find this newlywed at the shop after 5pm, 9-5 on Saturdays and at special events. She is also the editor of this newsletter. You may email Jessica directly at jessica@thehodgepodgery.com

Dawn Rettinger

The smiling face of the HoPo and the cheery voice that answers the HoPo phone. Dawn is the consignment coordinator, main shop keep and business paperwork diva. Dawn is also a Jane of all trades as her resume reads; licensed financial sales consultant, lending officer, merchant services, catering, owner of a mortgage sales recruiting business, state worker, truck driver and shopowner. You can find Dawn at the shop from 11-5 Tuesday through Friday and most Saturdays. You may email Dawn directly at dawn@thehodgepodgery.com
